Full-time or part-time. Permanent. Starting Immediately.

As an international IT company with 170 employees in Böblingen (greater Stuttgart area), we have been developing smart software solutions and connecting people, companies and systems for over 30 years. Our goal is to optimize value creation in customer communication through modern platforms via which documents and content of any type and format can be processed, distributed and made accessible in any system and channel. We are a leading provider in the field of omnichannel communication management and inspire our customers with our innovative world-class technologies.

What to expect:

- Excellent development opportunities: Compart offers you the opportunity to develop professionally and personally. We promote your strengths and give you room for innovation and creativity.
- Exciting projects: With us, you will work on challenging and future-oriented projects where you can demonstrate your skills.
- Inspiring working environment: We create an atmosphere in which you feel comfortable and can develop your full potential. State-of-the-art technologies and work equipment support you in this.
- Innovation: We actively create room for new approaches and innovation. We see change as an opportunity and are constantly looking for improvements. You have the chance to contribute your ideas and play an active role in shaping processes.
- Integrity and reliability: We treat each other fairly, value open, honest communication and keep our promises. You can count on Compart, especially in critical situations.
- Trust and respect: We respect the personalities and opinions of others. We trust in the skills and motivation of our employees. Our teams stick together and support each other.

Your profile:

- Passion for our technology: You are excited about the world of information technology and are motivated to familiarize yourself with our specific technology and keep up to date with the latest trends and technologies.
- Studies & professional experience: You have completed a degree or training, ideally in computer science, software development or a related field, and have already gained several years of professional experience. However, we also welcome career changers with relevant professional experience.
- Independent way of working: You have an independent, structured and a thorough way of working as well as strong communication skills.
- Customer orientation: You like to think your way into our customers' needs and develop solutions that exceed their expectations.
- Team spirit: We place great value on mutual support and cooperation. You are a team player and actively contribute to our agile work processes.
- Language skills: As a bilingual company, we value very good written and spoken German and English skills
