

Agile team seeking a

C and Java Software Developer (m/f)

Thanks to our software solutions, services and innovative, world-class technologies, we at Compart are a leading provider in the area of multi-channel document management. Our customers can process, distribute and access documents and content of all types and formats in any system or channel.

What Awaits You:

- The development and maintenance of basic components for converting and optimizing print data streams, fonts and file/image formats in C across the entire product life cycle for Windows, Linux, MacOS, Solaris, AIX
- The design and implementation of toolkit extensions for the basic components (Java, JavaScript, .NET, C++, C)
- The development of new base modules in Java (usually without graphical user interfaces)
- The maintenance and further development of tools for code generation
- Improvement of algorithms for rendering and image processing tasks such as resampling
- Agile work in a diverse team, supported by continuous integration, automated nightly tests and peer code reviews

What You Bring to the Table:

- A degree in computer science, mathematics or sciences, or a similar qualification
- Very good knowledge and practical experience with platform-independent programming in C
- Good knowledge of Java and preferably of other programming languages
- Interest in data streams (e.g. AFP, PCL, PostScript), document formats (e.g. XSL-FO, HTML, SVG, PDF), image formats (e.g. TIF, JPEG, PNG) and communication protocols
- A methodical-analytical working style and structured approach
- Very good English-language skills
